

A native of Millcreek, Utah, Zac Adamson began studying piano at age four. At age twelve, Zac performed with the Utah Symphony in Salute to Youth and appeared as a young Mozart in Mozart Alive!, a musical production depicting Mozart's life. In 2019, Zac completed his bachelor's degree in piano performance at Brigham Young University, studying with Scott Holden. While at BYU, Zac studied abroad in Vienna, Austria, where he gained a love for the German language, and was inspired to later complete a minor in German. While in Austria, Zac became close with three fellow BYU piano students in his study abroad group. After returning home, Zac collaborated with these three pianists to start the Ensign Piano Quartet, whose recordings and live performances can be found on YouTube. During the final year of his studies at BYU, Zac traveled to China with the Young Ambassadors, performing as a keyboardist in the BYU China Spectacular. Zac enjoys musical improvisation and has appeared recently as a keyboardist at ImprovBroadway, a musical improv comedy theater. Zac is currently a master's student at BYU, studying piano performance with Scott Holden. In addition to music, Zac enjoys meditation, practicing compassionate communication with others, and being barefoot.
