

Publisher: Just a Theory Press

Just a Theory Press is a music publishing company dedicated to promoting the work of living composers and providing high-quality sheet music for performers and ensembles. Founded with a mission to support contemporary music, we collaborate with artists across the country to bring new works to life and make them accessible to audiences worldwide. Our catalog spans diverse genres and styles, reflecting the voices of today's composers. From music engraving to printing and distribution, we ensure that every score meets the highest standards of excellence. Visit us at justatheorypress.com to explore our catalog and learn more.