

- She is an American composer who was trained as a pianist and composer.
- Her heritage has always been an important part of her identity. Her mother's Peruvian heritage in particular has influenced her music studies and composition.
- Frank has traveled extensively in South America, learning about the cultures and their folklore.
- Her compositions bring together the music of these cultures with her traditional western classical music training.
- Frank was recently the composer in residence with the Detroit Symphony.

Listen to Mestizo Waltz

* Search for this title on a music streaming platform (YouTube, Spotify, etc.) to find a recording